SACRIFICE OF SELF

PROF. G. W. RINE GIVES APPROPRIATE ADDRESS AT ADVENTIST GRADUATION

Graduation exercises of the 1916 class at the Glendale Sanitarium and Training School for Missionary Nurses were held in the grammar school auditorium last night. A great crowd filled the large assembly room to capacity, friends of the graduates having come from Loma Linda and nearby towns. Members of the faculty and the sixteen graduates in their spotless white uniforms were seated upon the platform which was decorated with sweet peas and ferns. Nearly 100 other nurses from the sanitarium, who also were in uniform, occupied the front seats.

Prof. G. W. Rine, instructor in English at Pacific Union college, a Seventh-day Adventist institution at St. Helena, Cal., delivered a masterly oration on "The Joy of Self-Sacrifice." He was followed by Elder E. E. Andross, president of the board of directors of the sanitarium, who, after a short address, presented the diplomas to the graduates.

Prof. Rine said the privileges Americans enjoy today were bought with the blood of their sires. He mentioned the struggles of the Revolution and the Civil War, and added that we may go back to the days of the Reformation and there find the sacrifice of the martyrs which had made religious liberty possible in the present generation. "Other men bled that we might go unscathed," he said. "Other men lived in the shadow of death that we might live in the light of peace and safety."

"Self-sacrifice is fundamental to the Christian religion," the speaker said. "Christianity is unthinkable without sacrifice, for it has its very roots in the tragedy of Calvary's cross. The Christian nurse follows a career that is perhaps more vitally and essentially associated with self-sacrifice than any other."

"We do not offer beasts today, but we offer lives—human lives. The question arises, 'Can the life be given in sacrifice to God, with the song of praise, as typified in the ancient service? Can sacrifice become a thing of triumph?' According to the Scriptures and the experience of thousands of men and women it can be done. The Christian nurse, of all Christian workers, will be called upon to make self sacrifice, self denial, self abnegation."

"In Civil war times many a man went to congress solemn, serious, sober. But our older citizens still talk about the feeling of exhilaration with which the young men went to the front to serve their country at the beginning of that awful struggle. Why the difference? The young men gave themselves unreservedly in sacrifice for their country. There was not the element of sacrifice in the service of the congressmen that there was in that of the volunteers."

"Our world is too commonplace for unmixed joy or to appreciate joy without the emphasis of its pain. It is through suffering that we are made perfect. Christ himself was 'a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief,' and yet always rejoicing in God. It was when his great sacrifice was brought most vividly to his mind that his joy was most keen and pure. That life marked its way with the crimson of its own blood."

"I think it is important that men and women so relate themselves to their work that they will find joy in the work rather than in other sources which are extraneous to it. It is the intention of God that we should be happy, and yet through his Son he calls upon us to take up our cross. 'Rejoice, ye that are upright in heart,' is the admonition of Holy Writ. The cross snells self sacrifice, devotion, self denial. Yet the Saviour, our example, found it meet to do not his own will but that of his Father. It was his supreme delight, his highest joy, not to do his own will, but that of God who sent him, and it was that very Father who pleased to make the Captain of our salvation perfect through suffering. Did Christ know that? He did. Yet he said, 'I delight to do thy will, O God; yet thy law is within my heart.' There is the secret. Is your heart upon your work? The man who dislikes his work never can do it well. The man who hates his work is like a man trying to carve a statue with a hatchet. When we realize we are living in a world redeemed with the blood of the Son of God, who hung on the cross for us, we can rejoice always in service for Him."

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Elder B. E. Beddoe, president of the Southern California conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, at the Glendale church, corner

EAST END FESTIVITIES

RESIDENTS ON BOUNDARY OF GLENDALE AND EAGLE ROCK HAD JOLLY CHRISTMAS

There is a large community in the east end of Glendale, bordering on Eagle Rock, where much good fellowship prevails. In fact, so warm is the feeling of friendship in that community that the division line between Glendale and Eagle Rock is completely forgotten and neighbor entertains neighbor with a freedom of hospitality that is pleasant to contemplate.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Young of Rock Glen avenue gave a large party on Christmas eve to which many of the neighbors were invited. A Yule log was brought in and set merrily blazing; old English yuletide games were indulged in and song and mirth made a merry party, where children mingled their artless voices with the hilarity of the older people.

Mrs. Gilmer of Douglas avenue gave a large party on New Year's day.

Mrs. Leichner of 115 Ellis avenue gave a kind of impromptu party on New Year's evening, to which a large number of ladies and gentlemen of the east end were summoned summarily by phone. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lowe of Eagle Rock. Music, song and dance helped to pass away a pleasant night. Refreshments were served in the dining room where when the guests were invited to enter a most exciting scene ensued. The lights on the large Christmas tree having been lit the tree took fire and blazed up wildly for a time. The gentlemen of the party, however, managed to hurl it out of the window without any damage having been done. Among those who helped to entertain the company were Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Moss.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer of Rock Glen avenue are entertaining their niece, Miss Carol Woodling of Long Beach, who will shortly leave for her own city.

Mrs. W. L. Johnston of Ellis avenue has been quite ill for some time, but is showing signs of getting better.

Mrs. Conner of Rock Glen avenue had a very pleasant visit during the holiday season from her daughter, who is a teaching sister in the Ramona convent school for girls.

Miss Elizabeth Hoffman of Santa Monica, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Young of Rock Glen avenue during the holidays, has returned home.

RAINFALL FOR SEASON

According to Mr. H. E. Bartlett, 101 S. Brand boulevard, who keeps the weather records for the Glendale district, the rainfall during the recent storm amounted to .46 of an inch. From Oct. 1 the rainfall to date has been 7.21 inches. This is considerably in excess of that of last year which was 5.15 inches to the same date. The northwestern depression which brought such disagreeable and unseasonably low temperatures in Oregon and Washington and such heavy rain in California has moved rapidly eastward, but the weather in this vicinity will remain cloudy and unsettled for a time.

AWAITS REPORT FROM PENFIELD

UNITED STATES MAY DEMAND THAT AUSTRIA REVEAL NATIONALITY OF SUBMARINE THAT SANK PERSIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—Secretary Lansing and President Wilson conferred on the Austrian situation for an hour today. After the conference Lansing announced that the United States was awaiting a report from United States Ambassador Penfield in Vienna. If Austria does not soon reveal the nationality of the submarine which sank the Persia it is likely that the United States government may summarily demand that the Vienna authorities identify the undersea craft. Relations between the United States and the Teuton powers are daily becoming more strained.

STEAMER SANTA CLARA WRECKED ON REEF

HUGE LINER SENDS CALLS FOR AID TO GET OFF SHORE IN THE STRAITS OF MAGELLAN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SANTIAGO-DE-CHILE, Jan. 5.—Badly battered in a terrific storm in the Straits of Magellan, and driven on a reef, the big 53,000-ton liner Santa Clara is in a very serious condition. She has been sending out repeated calls for help, which have been received at the wireless station at Puntas Arenas. She asks that boats be sent to tow her off the rocks and that provision be made for removing part of the cargo. It is thought that if the storm should not quickly subside she may become a total wreck.

TO SEARCH FOR DISABLED GREEK LINER

COASTGUARD CUTTER SENECA ORDERED TO LOCATE THE ABANDONED STEAMER THESSALONICA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—Special orders were given today to the coastguard cutter Seneca to search for and locate the abandoned Greek liner Thessalonica, which was abandoned by her crew and captain, after the 300 passengers on board had been taken off by the liner Patris. The Seneca has already been out searching for the steamer but failed to find her. The navy department now orders the cutter to find the liner and either tow her into port or sink her.

LOST 60,000 MEN IN ONE BATTLE

BRITISH UNDER SECRETARY ANNOUNCES ENORMOUS LOSSES IN THE FIGHTING LAST SEPTEMBER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Under Secretary Tennant announced in the House of Commons today that the British lost 60,000 men during the battle of Loos, last September. This was during the attempt of the Allies to break through the German lines. It was also stated that these losses included 2000 officers.

RUSSIANS FOLLOW UP AUSTRIAN RETREAT

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Jan. 5.—Austria has received a severe blow at the hands of the Russians, who have driven her troops out of strong positions and are now following up their line of retreat across the river Pruth. The Austrians are in full flight and the Russian artillery has been hurried up to shell the bridgeheads on the river. They have them under continuous fire. The Austrians have dynamited many bridges to prevent the Russians from crossing.

FORD PEACE MISSION EXPENSES $500,000

AUTO MAGNATE HAS ALREADY PAID OUT $300,000 FOR SHIP AND DELEGATES

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 5.—Business Manager Plantiff, who has charge of Henry Ford's Peace mission, said that already he had paid out $300,000 for expenses. Expenses on shore are running up at a great rate, as the party has struck the area of war prices. It is expected, according to Plantiff, that by Jan. 12, the expense of running the mission will have amounted to $500,000. "Mr. Ford," said the manager, "does not mind a trifling like that; but he wants results."

ASQUITH INTRODUCES CONSCRIPTION BILL

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Premier Asquith today introduced in the House of Commons the government's conscription bill. The bill provides for the immediate drafting of all bachelors and widowers between the ages of 18 and 41. Those who are engaged in indispensable occupations are exempted. This includes men who are working on the railroads or in munitions factories. Those who are religiously opposed to war are also exempt. This is meant for the benefit of Quakers. Ireland is not included in the scope of the bill. It is believed the bill will pass, though there is some opposition.

SCHOOL AND CAMPUS

SENIORS TO PRESENT SCREAMING FARCE—SCIENCE CLUB—SPANISH CLUB

"The Scientific Country School" will be presented by the Senior class to the student body next Friday at a pay assembly. The admission will be ten cents. The Seniors have so much dramatic ability in their class that they have chosen a play with a very large number of characters. The cast will include Richard Burke, M. Mills, I. S. Brown, R. McClure, M. Evans, D. Cloud, W. Learned, H. Stickney, W. Renshaw, K. Green, A. Norton, J. T. Beach, W. Bode, H. Garrot, R. Gregg, E. Eweris, R. Noffinger, M. McPherson, M. Hunt, J. Haier, D. Pigg, Robert Burke, V. Bayard, J. Shea, L. East and W. Beach.

With such a cast of stars the production should be a first class one. The parts are all well taken and since the play is naturally very funny the audience will be kept laughing most of the time. Rachel McClure fits into the part of the school matron perfectly. When we realize that William Renshaw and other dignified Seniors will take the parts of seven-year-old children we can imagine the fun. To see the stately Seniors act foolishly will be well worth a dime.

Cafeteria

The rainy weather brings great numbers of people to the High School cafeteria. The following is yesterday's menu: Baked noodles, 5c; hamburger, mashed potatoes and gravy, 10c; mashed potatoes and gravy, 2c; sweet potatoes, 5c; scalloped corn, 5c; hot weiner sandwich, 5c; nut bread sandwich, 5c; banana salad, 5c; spaghetti salad, 5c; lemon pie, 5c; apple pie, 5c; apple tapioca, with cream, 5c; French rolls, 2c; corn bread, 2c; butter, 2c; bread, 2c; hot chocolate, 5c; ice cream, 5c.

It is quite evident that a very nourishing lunch can be obtained for little money.

Science Club Program

The Science club of the High School will meet today at the seventh period in the science lecture room. The club has been fortunate in being able to secure Dr. W. B. Thompson, a physician of Los Angeles, who will speak to them upon the subject, "Microscopical Bullets." Dr. Thompson is a very interesting speaker and the time of all those who arrange to hear him will be well spent. All members of the Science club will be excused from their seventh period recitations. Members of the club are urged to be present on account of important business which is to be attended to.

Spanish Club

After many postponements "La Tertulia" will hold a meeting Friday night. The chief fun of the evening will be the initiation of new members. The meeting will begin at 7:30 on Friday evening at the High School. The officers of the club have already been elected. They are: President, James Richardson; vice president, William Rees; secretary and treasurer, William Renshaw. The program committee consists of Merle Echols, Mary Jane Evans, Jamie Shea, Clara Armstrong and Horace Lukins.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL

Preparations are being made at the Intermediate school for the graduation of a class of about 40 from the eighth grade to the High School. The graduation will be an impressive evening ceremony and will take place in the auditorium of the Intermediate school. Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of the superior court will give the address to the graduates. Further particulars of this interesting function will be published later.

The new term at the Intermediate school begins Jan. 31. The old term closes Jan. 28. On Jan. 31 begins in the kindergarten and in the first grade will be started. Quite a number of children are about to leave the kindergarten for the first grade and there will be room in the kindergarten for a number of children.

Principal Richardson D. White is arranging a series of lectures by experts on "The World's Work." This series will take up all the different vocations of the world and give the children an idea of the different trades and professions.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Members and friends of the Chamber of Commerce are cordially invited to be present at the meeting of that body this evening, Wednesday, Jan. 5, at 7:30. Important matters will be up for discussion.

RECORD OF FIRES

AVERAGE OF ONE CALL A WEEK IN 1915—FIVE FALSE ALARMS

Always on duty and standing between the City of Glendale and any possible disastrous conflagration the fire department of Glendale has an excellent record to show for the year that has passed away. During the first half of the year the department was under charge of Chief of Police Herald, who also was fire chief with A. H. Lankford as his assistant. The department was able and successfully managed, thanks to both of the superintendents, and when the separation of the police department from the fire department became necessary through the completion of the new police quarters at the city hall it was with complete confidence that full charge of the administration of the department was given to Mr. A. H. Lankford, who has fully justified the choice.

That change took place in July and since then the department has had a staff consisting of A. H. Lankford, fire chief; Emil Schroeder, assistant; Joe Olivas, Jesse Flower, Charles Potter, Emil Kiefer, George Potter, Clyde St. Clair and Walter Eves. Of these George Potter, Walter Eves and Emil Kiefer sleep in the fire department quarters.

During the year just closed there were 51 calls and five false alarms. This gives an average of a fraction more than one call a week. The charts show that the department was invariably on the scene of the fire within one minute or a very little more after the alarm had been turned in.

Many of the alarms throughout the summer months were small brush fires which were easily extinguished. One fire on the vacant lot belonging to Dr. Cable was caused by the burning of weeds by the city. In burning the weeds the weed burners destroyed a quantity of grapevine roots, which had to be compensated for.

A serious brush fire at Eagle Rock was attended by the Glendale department which was instrumental in checking and extinguishing the blaze. Another fire at Burbank was attended by the department. The property loss amounted to $1000.

Among the serious fires was one in the house occupied by F. W. Shepard at 420 N. Louise street, where the damage was $2500; J. H. Anderson's house at 439 E. Colorado street, $700; W. R. Campbell's house at 129 S. Kenwood, $1300; J. P. O'Brien's grocery, on July 27, $850; George Doyle's house at 206 Stanley street, July 6, damage $1300.

Most of the false alarms were the result of passersby seeing smoke issuing from houses or stores and giving the alarm without investigation. A bird's nest in a chimney and a fire lit for the first time caused another false alarm; the spilling of grease on a stove produced a marked effect on a passerby who, seeing the smoke, called out the department.

On the whole Glendale has every reason to congratulate itself on the evidence the records give that always at all hours the department was in readiness and answered all alarms with praiseworthy promptitude.

From the fact that where any serious fire occurred the house was usually a total loss it may be inferred that the present apparatus is insufficient for the purposes of safety. It is easy to imagine a warm spell, a night of high wind and an outbreak of fire in some of the more closely built-up quarters and one can see that not even the courage and skill of the present fire force could save the city from a serious loss.

CONDITIONS ON THE PANAMA CANAL

While the American engineers are working away clearing out the mud, clay and rocks that are choking up the Culebra cut from the constant slides that occur, there are not wanting those who are meager-minded enough to say, "I told you so." The fact is that no one who has followed the construction of the Canal expected that it would be without those slides. The world was informed before hand that they would occur. It must always be remembered, also, that the canal was opened to the world's commerce one year ahead of the time promised. It might have been just as well to have kept to the schedule time and completed the work of handling the slides in the cut, which were as inevitable as daylight.

The slides are being handled scientifically and will shortly cease entirely. When that is assured the world will be astonished to find the wonderful work that has been accomplished meantime at the terminals of the canal. At the Pacific end of the Canal the Americans have built two beautiful cities, typically American in their every appointment. These cities are Balboa and Ancon. At Balboa 20,000 laborers are working day and night on the great government docks and coal depots. They are grading and dredging and erecting numerous buildings. They are constructing fortifications that will protect the canal in case of war, and meanwhile they have built up a most beautiful residential city in Balboa.

Balboa, named in memory of the great discoverer of the Pacific ocean, Vasco Nunez de Balboa, is beautifully clean. Its houses are screened with fine mesh wire netting and not a mosquito can enter if there should be any left to enter. The grading of the whole country in this quarter has driven away those pests. Wherever stagnant pools remained they were dried up and where this process was too difficult they were covered with a film of oil, which effectually prevented the emerging of the larvae of the mosquito.

From having been the "pesthole of the nations" and a place which was dreaded by all travelers, the Canal region is now a salubrious and pleasant place of abode. The vast lake created by the building of the Gatun dam has modified the climate considerably and the clearing of the region in connection with the ten-mile strip which belongs to the United States has almost banished malarial fever. The malarial mosquito has been driven from the towns and the yellow-fever mosquito has likewise been banished.

The consequence is that whereas just before the building of the Canal was begun the death rate from malarial and yellow fever was about 50 per 1000; it is now somewhere about 8. In similar manner so strong a war was waged against smallpox, which annually killed its thousands, that when two years ago the Canal authorities advertised that they would give a reward of $50 to anyone who could show them a case of smallpox on the Zone, none was found to claim the premium.

The work that has been done on the Canal Zone is to the lasting credit of the United States and when the Canal is opened permanently the world will be ready to acknowledge the debt.

WHAT TO DO WITH DEFECTIVES

It is characteristic of the changes that have come over the conscience of the modern Christian world that it is possible for men and women of high intelligence to discuss the advisability or inadvisability of taking the life of a newly-born child when that child is a "defective." Medical practice has hitherto been to preserve life at any cost, and many a life that has proved of vast use to the world has thus been saved from early extinction.

There is nothing new in the discussion which was evoked recently by the action of Dr. A. J. Haiselden, of Chicago, who allowed the Bollinger baby, a defective child, to die, without attempting an operation that would have kept life in its frame and possibly permitted it to grow up in deformity. The question of giving power to the medical faculty in this direction has agitated the world in all ages and the world's decision has invariably been against any such delegation of power, seeing the evil use that might be made of it.

Dr. Haiselden, however, took the law into his own hands and with the consent of the parents, nay, even at their urgent request, made no attempt to save the child's life. A court has absolved him of all responsibility for the act of inaction; but a great many people have been greatly exercised over this affair and many have taken it upon them to give expression to their views on the value of a life possibly imbecile and crippled in an unsightly manner.

To some the doctor's decision is sensible and courageous. Others who have a profound sense of the value of human life denounce the medical man in terms of bitterness. Sarcastic comment has been common, especially when the subject has been reviewed in the light of the enormous slaughter on the fields of Europe. Kathleen Norris, the novelist, has published a poem on the subject of "The Undefectives," which is a strong rebuke to empty theorists. She pictures not the sightless, dumb and unhearing child over whom such a fuss has been raised, but:

"A whole, sweet, confident baby, a baby with eyes and ears,

Who clings like a little soldier to the scanty hope of the years.

"Until in cruel summer or the winter's cold he goes,

A gallant baby outnumbered by a hundred subtle foes.

"Foes in the milk we give him, foes in dirt and disease,

Dangers of street and gutter, and greater dangers than these.

"Born of a social system that counts the rent and the wage,

And keeps the heart of a baby shut up like a beast in a cage.

"You who have risen in protest, call this a crime if you will!

Or better, go find a baby, perhaps one is living still,

"Who will not be here tomorrow, whose battle is nearly done,

Who has lost the unequal struggle for comfort and food and sun

"Bring back his tiny conviction that the world is kind and right

And that hunger and want and fever are only dreams in the night.

"And when he is strong and happy with his own little place on earth,

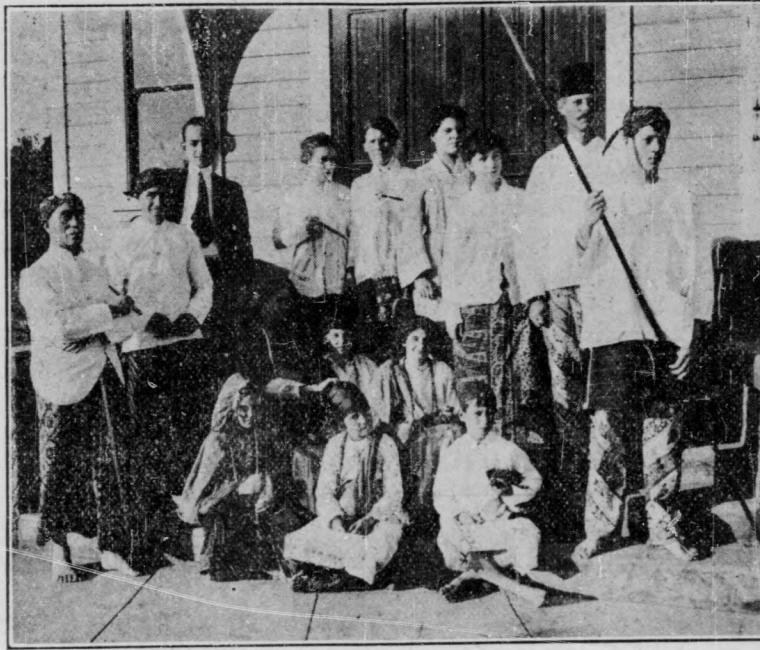

Then form your organization to save the deficient at birth."

That seems to be about the last word in the "Baby Bollinger" dispute, and is at least a very practical suggestion and one that might better occupy the attention of would-be philanthropists than the other.

Let us be firm in our intentions to keep those New Year resolutions in active operation for the entire year.

In some parts of Mexico they are beginning to think more seriously about tilling than about killing. This is a much-desired development.

LECTURE ON JAVA

Rev. J. H. Clifford and His Troupe

Rev. John Clifford, M. D., and his troupe will appear at the First Baptist church this evening. The public is cordially invited and there will be no charge for admission. All who have heard the Cliffords speak very warmly of the impression they make. Few are permitted to travel to faraway Java. The educational feature is no small consideration when just for the coming one can spend an evening in a new and interesting country. The hour is announced for 7:30 this evening. Pass along the word.

EAGLE ROCK

A regular old eastern snowstorm occurred last Thursday to the great surprise of many who came here to avoid the snow and cold. Nevertheless, it was a pretty sight to see as the soft flakes came tumbling down through the air and was a delight to all and especially so to the children who never before saw snow.

A party of Eagle Rock young people enjoyed a hike up Mount Wilson New Year's eve and took part in the snow frolic prevalent just now. They returned New Year's afternoon.

At the city board meeting last week Monday evening a protest containing some forty signatures of people residing on Adams avenue who deemed it quite necessary to change the street's name, was presented to the council, but was unheeded by them. Then an ordinance was read allowing several other street names to be changed and the question was carried.

Tuesday was an unusual day at Occidental college as it was visitors' day and the entire institution was open the day through to all friends. The classes were held at the regular hours and in the afternoon at 2 o'clock a most interesting program was rendered by the young women's and young men's glee clubs.

An investigating committee was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to find out all they can about the water supply and if a possible reduction in water rates could be had.

Mr. Lindsey of Highland Park has begun the erection of a fine large home on Woodrow avenue. When completed he with his wife and little son will occupy it.

The Jillson girls, Misses Bessie and Alta, and their brother Lewis had as their guests during the holidays their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jillson of Dinuba.

Miss Ellen Galpin, who has been spending the holidays at her home on West Adams avenue returned to the Stanford university the past week to resume her studies.

Three young men who attend Occidental college have rented the two story house on Eagle and Central avenue and are now occupying it.

J. Stultz, residing near Hill avenue, has just completed a bungalow at one of the beaches and with his family will occupy it. They moved this week and are greatly missed by their many friends and acquaintances.

So many of our citizens are confined to their homes with the grippe. 'Pears no one is in style unless they suffer from the malady so prevalent everywhere.

Mrs. Peerne and little daughter are visiting with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lugwick, on Adams avenue and sister, Mrs. Walter Brown and family, on Colorado Blvd.

Mrs. Bessie Thew Miller entertained friends from Ontario during the holidays at her cozy home on West Sycamore avenue.

JUDGE WILBUR TO ADDRESS BROTHERHOOD

The regular monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Methodist church tomorrow evening promises to be of unusual interest. Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, of Los Angeles, will give an address to the Brotherhood. He is well known as a speaker, with a direct, earnest message. His long experience on the bench of the Juvenile and Superior courts has given him wide knowledge of human nature and society, and this knowledge, coupled with keen sympathies and lofty purposes, always make Judge Wilbur's addresses of intense interest. All men of the Brotherhood and other Brotherhoods are urged to be present, and men outside the Brotherhoods are cordially invited.

TO FRESHEN PASTRY

Stale pastry can be made fresh and palatable if sprinkled liberally with cold water and rebaked. Cover when taken out of the oven and serve quickly. This method would be useless in the case of puff pastry. —The Union, Manchester, N. H.

WELCOMING 1916

In a gay whirl of merriment, the bidden guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hummel and the Carl Gilmans welcomed the dawn of a new year. These four charming people presided as hosts and hostesses with a pretty dancing party on New Year's Eve, in the Odd Fellows' hall, 618 West Third street.

Delicious punch was served during the hours given over to the terpsichorean diversion and following the "Happy New Year" greetings, those seated at the midnight banquet board were, those presiding over the evening's entertainment, and Messrs. and Mesdames W. Richie, D. Blair, Thos. Wilson, E. A. Bayley, W. A. Bayley, A. H. Hurst, Horace H. Hosford, E. Chappelle, W. A. Smith, R. M. Walker, J. Morrison, Chas. G. Hezmalhalch, Al Fels, Al Deal, R. Fleming, E. New, R. W. Brooks, Ed. Hummel, Frank Grey, Mrs. Atchinson, the Misses M. Brooks, L. Holt, S. Jennings, D. Marsh, Mable Bayley, H. Witt, D. McIntyre, M. Stump, G. Reeves, L. Morrison, Jewel Kabes, M. Sipes, Messrs. T. Brooks, A. Hummel, R. Books, R. Holloway, B. Shannon, S. Lukeman, W. Lukeman, H. H. Hosford, Jr., H. Conrad, C. Brockman and Mulhart.

TROPICO

Hostesses for the Tropico Thursday club for tomorrow afternoon include Mrs. Allen E. Boyce, Mrs. Edwin Virden, Mrs. Dwight Griswold and Miss Ida M. Myers. The meeting will be held in the Tropico City Hall and a most interesting program is promised.

John W. Birney, one of Tropico's prominent young business men, has sufficiently recovered from a recent illness as to resume his usual business activities.

Mrs. Emil F. Tholen will entertain the Auction Bridge club at her home on Brand boulevard Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president of the Tropico Thursday club, will represent the local organization at the called meeting of the club presidents of Southern California, to be held in Los Angeles, Thursday, Jan. 13.

Plans will soon be formulated for the large card party to be given in K. P. hall for the benefit of the Municipal playground. All citizens interested in the welfare of the playground are taking a lively interest in the success of the party, which will be given later in the month.

Miss Bessie Chandler of Elizabeth Hill is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler, of West Cypress street.

After enjoying the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hamilton of West Tenth St., Miss Pauline Hamilton returned to Mills College Tuesday evening.

Mrs. M. H. Weiler, who has been very much indisposed the past few days, is reported as improving.

Announcements and advertisements published in the Glendale Evening News certainly bring the desired results. Tuesday evening's paper contained a small announcement calling attention to the fact that Miss Marjorie Imler's blue Persian prize winner cat, Bismarck, had disappeared from the family residence on West Park avenue. A few hours later Dr. A. M. Duncan of South San Fernando boulevard informed Miss Imler that her handsome prize-winner had been found and would be returned to her. So much for advertising in a real live, wide-awake newspaper that is read in all of the homes of Tropico.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius S. Hayward, formerly of 1212 Arden avenue, now domiciled in their bungalow on West First street, entertained at dinner on New Year's eve, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Blue and Mrs. Gerald Blue, later attending the "Gangsters' club" dancing party at the E. W. McSpadden home, 1316 Arden avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Heger of the Casa Blanca apartments were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Bode of 306 Orange street last Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Trepianer of 1300 North Maryland entertained as their guests at dinner very recently Mr. and Mrs. Michael Drohan of Kenneth road.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Lawrence of 1304 North Maryland avenue entertained at dinner New Year's evening, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coutts, recently from Baltimore, Md., now of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Kneid, also of Glendale.

Miss Lucile Pittman of 1001 N. Pacific avenue, with a party of Los Angeles friends, motored to Venice last Sunday evening.

PROGRAM OF INTEREST

The literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met at the home of Mrs. E. H. Willisford at 231 Orange street Tuesday afternoon. This meeting proved to be of unusual interest, with a goodly number present.

Mrs. Frank Grosvenor gave a most pleasing book review on "Peru, the Land of Contrast," by Millicent Todd, while Mrs. Frederick Weitzel's review was instructive and amusing on the book "From the Log of the Velso," the work of Arnold Bennett, and took her listeners on an imaginary trip through Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Germany and east England.

The section was given a real treat in Mrs. Willisford's reading of "Robert of Sicily" by Longfellow, accompanied on the piano by her daughter, Miss Carol Willisford, who had arranged music to suit the poem.

Mrs. Weitzel's mother, Mrs. Miller of Los Angeles, was a guest during the afternoon.

The section will hold the next meeting on January 18th in the home of their last hostess, Mrs. Willisford.

The section will hold the next meeting on January 18th in the home of their last hostess, Mrs. Willisford.

HONORING REV. TROY

Rev. John H. Troy, clergy in charge at the First Baptist church, furnished the inspiration for a jolly surprise party which had for its host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. John Cole of 331 Orange street, on Monday evening. The affair was in celebration of the 34th natal day of Rev. Troy and fifty-five friends extended heartiest birthday greetings to their beloved pastor and friend.

In rooms handsomely decorated with poinsettias, smilax and fern fronds those present enjoyed a most delightful impromptu program with numbers selected from among the talented guests present. Vocal selections, both solos and duets, were given by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Cunningham and Mrs. Robert Moore, while humorous readings by Miss Mary Wright were thoroughly enjoyed.

A huge and beautifully decorated three-tiered birthday cake with thirty-four lighted tapers was constructed and presented by Mrs. Thompson of culinary fame.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole proved themselves not only gracious but most clever as host and hostess, for the honored guest was so bidden to his own birthday party that he little suspected what was happening. After the guests of the evening had arrived in the Cole home Rev. Troy was sent for posthaste to answer a telephone call. The poor, unsuspecting man entered the well darkened house and when within the walls a flood of light was turned on. Overcome would more nearly describe his feelings than that of being surprised. Maybe he was both.

At the close of this very happy evening a deliciously elaborate buffet supper was served.

ODD STREET NAMES

A French contemporary has been amusing itself by making a list of long street names and offers the Parisian's record—Rue des Prétresses-Saint-Germain-l'Auxerrois.

That is a mouthful, but it is equalled by a thoroughfare in Brussels that rejoices in the name of Rue de la Montague aux Herbes-Potagères. In the outskirts of the Belgian capital there is even more of a tongue-twister, the Ongeschildzel-verenocknootjestraat, which may be translated as the street of the little unpicked silver nut.—Weekly Scotsman.

THE REWARD OF PERSISTENCY

The earth is full of rivers running far beneath the top, and when the western farmer wants to raise himself a crop he drills a hopeful hole through all discouragement and stone for that artesian fluid which is well and widely known through very frequent mention in the lectures that we hear upon the foolishness of wine and wickedness of beer.

The world is full of forces which the energetic chap is constantly and carefully endeavoring to tap; and when it coldly tells him that it never heard of him, he simply advertises with persistency and vim until he penetrates its outer surface tough and hard, and ultimately gathers in a suitable reward.

But he who digs for water and the man who bores for oil must keep on drilling grimly till he gets to where it is. The one who is discouraged with a few initial knocks can never hope to penetrate a thousand feet of rocks; and all the fine prosperity by nature kindly stored will flow for other folks and fill some other fellow's gourd.

EXTENT OF THE CROPS

One way to grasp the meaning of the crop figures this year is to translate them into other terms than bushels, says the Youths Companion. For example, our 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat is enough for our own use and 400,000 carloads to sell abroad—8,000 trains of 50 freight cars each and 1,000 bushels in every car. Counting only what goes to market, all the crops combined make 150,000,000 tons of freight for the railways to handle—enough to fill a freight train that would reach twice around the world.

APPLE CREAM PIE

One pint of stewed and sweetened apples rubbed through a sieve, add yolks of two eggs well beaten, four tablespoons sweet cream; then stir in the stiffly beaten white of one egg. Bake in one short pastry crust. When cold, arrange whipped cream about the edge in spoonfuls. Decorate in groups with small red candies to simulate holly berries, cutting the stems and leaves from citron which has been cut into thin slices and simmered a moment in hot water.—Detroit Free Press.

A MITTEN DUSTER

A mitten duster is a small novelty consisting of a hand shaped piece of soft felt, to the lower edge of which is attached a mop-like bunch of cotton yarn. The mitt is slipped on the hand and used to dust furniture just as a usual cloth, but the hand is kept clean.—The Modern Priscilla.

Sheriff Cline has won his fight for the right to buy food for county prisoners. The justice of his contention was so plain that there was no valid excuse for questioning it.
